Verification of Need for Reasonable Accommodation

Home Forward is required by law to provide reasonable accommodations in rules, policies, practices, or services when such accommodations may be necessary to afford a person with a disability equal opportunity to use and enjoy our housing programs and services. Home Forward does not provide reasonable accommodations when the request is a matter of convenience or preference only.

Applicable federal and state law defines "disability," with respect to the individual, as:

- 1. a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more of such person's major life activities; Major life activities are defined as functions such as caring for one's self, performing manual tasks, walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning, and working.
- 2. a record of having such an impairment; or
- 3. being regarded as having such an impairment; but such term does not include current illegal drug users, people whose alcohol use interferes with the rights of others, or people who objectively pose a direct threat or substantial risk of harm to others that cannot be controlled with a reasonable accommodation under the HCV program.
